The Saint Louis University,

OLD AND NEW.

In the autumn of 1828 the Jesuit Fathers, who since 1823 had been established near Florissant, St. Louis County, Missouri, laid the foundation of a college building on the lot situated at the corner of Ninth Street and Christy Avenue. This building, 40x50, three stories high with a basement, was occupied in the fall of 1829. Classes were opened November 2d of that year, and before the close of the following July one hundred and forty-nine pupils, of whom thirty were boarders, had been entered on the college record. In 1831 an addition (40x40 feet) to the east end of the main building, afforded relief to the overcrowded community.

In 1832, December 28th, the Legislature of Missouri granted a charter to the institution by "An Act to Incorporate The St. Louis University." Until that date the institution had been known under the name of "The St. Louis College." The first regular faculty under the charter organized on April 3d, 1833. Rev. P. J. Verhaegen, S. J., was the first president. On July 31st, 1834, three graduates received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

An addition, also 40x40 feet, was made to the main building on the west side in 1834. Another and separate building, two stories high with a basement, was erected on Washington Avenue, just below Tenth Street, in 1835. The first story served as a chapel for the neighbors till the completion of St. Xavier Church in 1843, and after that time was occupied on Sundays by the German Catholics till 1845.

In 1835 negotiations were begun with prominent physicians with a view to attaching a staff of medical professors to the University. The project matured slowly: in the autumn of 1842 the first course of lectures was delivered in a separate building on Washington Avenue, west of Tenth Street. The following professors composed the medical faculty for the session 1842-1843: Daniel Brainard, M. D.; Joseph W. Hall, M. D.; H. Augustus Prout, M. D.; Moses L. Linton, M. D.; Joseph J. Norwood, M. D.; Alvin Litton, M. D. The medical professors continued their connection with the University until 1855, when they obtained a separate charter, under the title of "St. Louis Medical College." A Law Department, organized in 1843, met with no lasting success.

In 1839 a suite of frame class-rooms, one story and a half high, was erected on Christy Avenue, and in 1846 a large three-story building, adjoining the above, was completed; the second story of the latter furnished accommodations for a parish school.

The corner-stone of St. Xavier Church was laid with great solemnity in the spring of 1840. On Palm Sunday, 1843, the sacred edifice opened its doors for public services.

In 1853, under the presidency of Rev. J. B. Druyts, ample buildings were projected to front on Washington Avenue, but after the completion, in 1855, of one wing, on the corner of Ninth Street, the plan received no further attention. The finished portion however, 130x60 feet and three stories high, proved very serviceable. The third story was designed for an exhibition hall. Its lofty ceiling and walls were elegantly frescoed under the presidency of

THE LIBRARY.

Rev. John S. Verdin. The second story was divided into library, museum and science room, the first into chapel and study hall. Two revolving cupolas over the entrance on Ninth Street were used for telescopic observations.

In 1864 Rev. Thos. O'Neil, then president, erected a four-story class-room building on Ninth Street, between the church and the exhibition hall. In boarding-school times the fourth story served as a dormitory. The elegant Philaethic Hall, on the third floor, is well known to all frequenters of the University.

In May, 1867, the site of the new University buildings was purchased. The plot of ground, 446 feet front on Grand Avenue by a depth of 360 feet, extends from Lindell Avenue to Baker Avenue (West Pine Street).

On June 24th, 1879, Rev. Jos. E. Keller being president, St. Louis University celebrated its golden jubilee. Pope Leo XIII. sent a Brief and his Blessing to the faculty and students. Pontifical High Mass by Mt. Rev. P. J. Ryan, a masterly discourse by Rt. Rev. J. L. Spaulding, and, in the evening, speeches by prominent alumni of the institution, not to mention a banquet in the afternoon, gave splendor to the celebration. A full account of the festivities, as well as a report of all the discourses delivered on the occasion, can be found in Rev. Walter H. Hill's "Historical Sketches of the St. Louis University." The discontinuance of the boarding-school, in June, 1881, introduced great changes into the management of the college.

Rev. R. J. Meyer, appointed president in 1881, took active steps towards the transfer of the institution to the new site on Grand Avenue. Mr. Thos. A. Walsh having been chosen architect, plans were prepared for a church and a college. The University authorities set apart the corner of Grand and Lindell Avenues for the site of a church. In 1883 excavations were begun, and on June 8th, 1884, the corner-stone of the new church was laid in the presence of an immense concourse of people. The length of the sacred edifice is 210 feet, width of transept 120 feet. The basement having absorbed over $50,000, the University authorities resolved to put the same under roof. An ample chapel, 100x80 feet, was fitted up, in which services have been conducted since November 1st, 1884.

The old site found purchasers on May 24th, 1886, and preparations were at once made for the erection of a new college. The building as planned and executed has the form of a reversed L, the base line being on the left side of the perpendicular instead of on the right side. The front on Grand Avenue measures 270 feet. The architecture is early decorated English Gothic. With the exception of the parlors near the main entrance, marked by the portico, the entire portion of the building fronting on Grand Avenue, will be devoted to college purposes. The entrance for the students is opposite to Pine Street, towards the extreme left of the building, below bay-window and spire. On the third floor is a magnificent museum, 98x58 feet and 52 feet high. It has an open polished timber roof, supported by arches. The same apartment will serve as a picture gallery. In the basement a fine laboratory is in preparation, and on the first floor several magnificent science rooms have been provided. Two iron stair-cases, one at each extremity of the class-room division, reach from basement to attic.

From the main entrance the building extends west to the full depth of the premises; this division contains the private rooms of the faculty. Immediately behind the parlors on the first floor is the entrance to the chapel, which measures 80x50 feet. Above the chapel is the library, of the same dimensions as the chapel, but two stories high, and amply lighted from above and from the north side. The accommodations of this apartment are as good as those of any library in the country. Three balconies extend around the walls, one 15 feet, the other two 12 feet in depth. Any book can be reached without ladder or step. Under the chapel and easily accessible from Grand Avenue will be a lecture room with a seating capacity for 300 persons.

There is every reason to hope that the hearty good-will manifested towards the University for so many years on the old site will continue, and that, as the need of higher education is more felt, the friends and patrons of learning will be more active and zealous in supporting an institution that has already achieved so remarkable a success.

St. Mark's Academy.

A record of St. Louis University would not be complete without a word of reference to St. Mark's Academy. This Association had a very simple beginning. A few young men, who had finished their collegiate studies, agreed, at the suggestion of Rev. James M. Hayes, S. J., to meet on stated evenings for the purpose of reading to one another original literary compositions, and of assisting one another in the acquisition of a manly style and in the formation of definite and sound opinions, by criticism and the interchange of ideas. The first meeting took place on December 5, 1876. Father Hayes, who, besides being the originator of the project, was also the moving spirit of the little circle, was removed from St. Louis in 1878. His cautious and prudent labors had, however, laid a solid foundation. Rev. Hugh L. Magevney, S. J., and his successor, Rev. C. Coppens, S. J., met with so ready a response from the educated gentlemen of the city, that in 1880 forty names appear on the roll. From the Constitution printed that same year we learn more definitely the purpose of the organization :

“The object of the Academy is twofold, general and special.”

“The general object is the development of an active Catholic spirit, and the cultivation of a taste for philosophical, literary and scientific studies.”

“It's special object is to form ready and able writers in defence of Catholic truths, especially in their bearings on civil society.”

Only practical Catholics could be admitted to membership. Regular meetings were held every alternate week. Rev. M. P. Dowling, S. J., Rev. M. M. Harts, S. J., and more especially Rev. Thomas Hughes, S. J., gave the Association, at different times, the benefit of their counsel and direction.

Rev. Jas. F. X. Hoeffler, S. J., appointed Director in 1886, conceived the idea of expanding St. Mark's Academy into an organization ampler in membership and wider in scope. Gradually the project of a club for Catholic gentlemen, in which a literary society would find a fitting place and a congenial home, was matured. The agitation developed into the successful and most auspicious organization of the Marquette Club.

Alumni Association.

The subjoined circular speaks for itself. It is inserted in grateful acknowledgment, and with the confident hope that it will give birth to an Association that will keep green the memory of the old, and lend prestige to the new St. Louis University.

ST. LOUIS, June 2nd, 1888.

To all Old Students of St. Louis University, GREETING.

DEAR SIR:—In view of the fact that the old College is soon to disappear from our sight, though not from our hearts, we, the undersigned, have judged it to be the just and graceful thing, that the old Alma Mater should live on in her sons, and that the hearts which made the old should make the new College their home.

Accordingly we have formed ourselves into the Alumni Association of the St. Louis University, and extend the right hand of friendship and good fellowship to every alumnus, that is, old Student of the University.

It is proposed that we have a Reunion and Banquet once a year within the College walls, with no more formality than old College boys will tolerate.

To cover the expenses entailed by the Banquet, the Membership fee has been set at the lowest figure, viz.:—$2.00 per annum.

You are herewith most respectfully and earnestly invited to join us at once. The Banquet with which we propose to bid farewell to the old College will take place on June 25th.

In case you wish to be with us on that occasion, please sign enclosed application card and forward same with $2.00 to the Treasurer, who will promptly return you a card of membership.

In order that no deserving Old College Boy may be overlooked in the hurry of the moment, we beg of you to transmit to the Secretary at your earliest convenience, the names of all eligible Old College Boys of your acquaintance.

Hoping to hear from you as soon as possible, we beg to remain,
Most respectfully,

DR. J. S. B. ALLEYNE, President.

General Regulations.

The Academic Year consists of one session, beginning on the first Monday of September, and ending in the last week of June, when the Annual Commencement, the Conferring of Degrees and the Distribution of Premiums take place.

The session is divided into two terms—the first ending on the first of February and the second in the last week of June. A thorough examination of all the classes is made at the close of each term. There are three competitions during the course of the year; the first at the beginning of November, the second at the beginning of April, and the third toward the end of May. The first and second competitions, as also the examination at the end of the first term, are followed by distribution of Premiums. The places or degrees of merit obtained by the students in the different classes are publicly proclaimed, and honors are awarded to such as have been most distinguished for good conduct, diligence and proficiency.

On completion of the Classical Course, the degree of A. B. is conferred upon those who, on examination, are found deserving of that distinction. Subsequently, the degree of A. M. can be obtained by devoting a second year to the study of Philosophy in the Institution, or two years to a learned profession. Students of the Commercial Course receive an honorary certificate on completion of the course.

Every candidate for admission, who is not personally acquainted with some member of the Faculty, must produce proper testimonials of a good moral character. If he comes from another College, he will be required to present a certificate of good standing in the institution which he has left.

Every month reports are sent to the parents or guardians of the students, to inform them of the conduct and improvement of their sons or wards.

Punctual attendance is earnestly recommended. Parents are regularly informed of the non-attendance of their sons, who, in case of absence, are invariably required to bring a note of excuse to the Vice-President. In order that the lessons may be prepared with proper assiduity, parents are requested to insist on their sons studying at home for two or three hours every evening. When students are to be withdrawn from the institution, due notice should be given to the President.

The College is open every morning at half-past seven o'clock. Those who come before the time of class proceed at once to the Study Hall, and devote the interval to private study. All are required to be present five minutes before half-past eight o'clock, at which hour the Catholic students hear Mass. At nine o'clock A. M. the regular exercises of class commence, closing at half-past two o'clock P. M.

Terms.

As the Institution is not endowed, it is entirely dependent for its support on the fees paid for tuition.

Tuition per session of ten months, for all classes, including
Stationery, $60.00

Students of Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, for the use of the apparatus, pay $10 per session.

School books are furnished, if parents desire it, at current prices.

Diploma for Graduates in the Classical, Scientific or Post-Graduate Course, $10.

Certificates for the completion of the English Course, $5.

Payments must be made quarterly or semi-annually in advance. The account for tuition, etc., dates from the day of the student's entrance, whether at the beginning or during the course of a term.

Free Scholarship.

At their meeting on April 30th, the Board of Trustees of the University unanimously resolved to offer a free scholarship in the Classical Course to one successful competitor from each parochial school within the city limits, on the following conditions :

1. Each parish school may send for examination not less than two nor more than three competitors.
2. The competitors should not be under ten years of age.
3. The matter for examination is as follows :

GEOGRAPHY.—Map of the United States, boundaries, capitals and principal cities of the States.

ARITHMETIC.—Compound Numbers. Common and Decimal Fractions.

ENGLISH.—Reading. Spelling of words in ordinary use. Elementary parsing ; parts of speech ; conjugation of verbs.

4. Should the holder of such free scholarship, at any period of his course, show himself unworthy of the privilege on account of misconduct, or become unfit for it through lack of talent or application, he shall forfeit the honor at the discretion of the University authorities.

5. Aforesaid free scholarship shall not entitle the occupant to any branches but those of the regular Classical Course.

6. The examination will take place at the new University, on August 27th, at 9 o'clock A. M.

7. The names of the competitors should be registered at the University, by August 15th.

Acknowledgments.

The President and Faculty wish to express their grateful acknowledgment for the following donations to the Museum and Library during the past year :

Courses of Instruction.

There are two Courses of Instruction, the Classical and the Commercial.

I.

THE CLASSICAL COURSE.

The Classical Course is designed to impart a thorough liberal education. In the accomplishment of this purpose the ancient classics hold the first place as the most efficient instrument of mental discipline. Besides Latin, Greek and English, the Course embraces Religious Instruction, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Astronomy and Mathematics, History, Literature, the Natural Sciences—in a word, all the usual branches of a complete education. It has been found by long experience that this is the only Course that fully develops all the faculties, forms a correct taste, teaches the student how to use all his powers to the best advantage, and prepares him to excel in any pursuit, whether professional or commercial.

The Course is divided into two departments, Collegiate and Academic.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

CLASS OF PHILOSOPHY.

The object of this class is to form the mind to habits of correct reasoning, and, as the crowning perfection of the whole Course of Instruction, to impart sound principles of mental and moral philosophy.

EVIDENCES OF RELIGION.—Schouppé's Abridged Course of Religious Instruction. Lectures in explanation.

LOGIC AND METAPHYSICS. — Russo's Summa Philosophica.
For reference, Hill's Elements.

ETHICS. — Jouin's Elementa Philosophiæ Moralis. For reference, Hill's Moral Philosophy.

MATHEMATICS. — Differential and Integral Calculus.

ASTRONOMY. — Newcomb and Holden's Astronomy.

SCIENCE. — Special Course, two hours a week.

LITERATURE. — Special Course, two hours a week.

ELOCUTION. — One hour a week.

CIRCLES and SPECIMENS.

CLASS OF RHETORIC.

The object of this class is the study of Oratory, Historical Composition and Dramatic Poetry.

EVIDENCES OF RELIGION.

Schouppé's Abridged Course of Religious Instruction. Lectures in explanation.

LANGUAGES

LATIN — Models :

1st Term : Cicero — Pro Lege Manilia or Pro Milone.

Horace — Select Odes and Epodes.

2nd Term : Cicero — One of the following orations :

In Catilinam (4), Pro Marcello, Pro Ligario.

Tacitus — Selections.

Horace — Select Epistles and Satires.

Practice : Latin Themes and Original Compositions in Prose and Verse ; Imitations of Models ; Off-hand translation of Latin into English, and of English into Latin.

THE PHILALETHIC SOCIETY

Was instituted in 1832, with the sanction of the Board and Faculty of the University. Its objects are to prepare its members for public speaking, and to furnish their minds with facts and arguments on historical, literary and philosophical questions. It possesses a spacious hall, which is elegantly fitted up and tastefully adorned with appropriate designs and with representations of celebrated orators.

OFFICERS.

REV. EUGENE A. MAGEVNEY, S. J.,	. . .	President.
JOSEPH M. DONOVAN,	Vice-President.
THOMAS P. BURKE,	Secretary.
JOHN J. SCHENK,	Treasurer.
EDWARD V. PAPIN,	First Censor.
GEORGE L. KIPPENBERGER,	Second Censor.

THE STUDENTS' LIBRARY

Was established to encourage useful reading, and to counteract the dangers of miscellaneous reading. A choice collection of over 4,000 volumes on various subjects is accessible to the members. This library is entirely independent of the Sodality Libraries, which are of a religious character.

OFFICERS.

MR. WILLIAM J. WALLACE, S. J.,	President.
